Bassingbourn ERSA Sunday 26th September

Strangely enough despite the cold, damp weather and the driving wind a good days racing was still had. All credit must go to Jenny and the rest of the Bassingbourn team for a well organised race. The sweet stall apparently went down especially well.

Though on an army base only one soldier actually skis regularly which is a shame as the racers on Sunday proved that a fast, tight competition can be had even on a short course like Bassingbourn's.

Please take the time to follow the link below and give feedback on the race and the whole ERSA season <http://www.ersa.co.uk/ersa-race-feedback> your opinion could make a difference to next years competition. I've asked for under floor heating in the shed!

Michael hides from the rain

I'd like to thank Neil at Racer Ready for his continued support, the race reports have been posted on the site every month. The site is a must for the latest information on British skiing.

Mini to Master

Nice, neat well kept slope

The next person who says 'its alright for you indoors' is going to get the evil eye

In the zone?

Sweets & Lemonade the perfect combination?
